➤ Owih tamoleken ika'ko

Tracing practice area for the 'Owih tamoleken ika'ko' motif. It consists of several rows of lines:

- Row 1: A sequence of circles. The first two are solid with arrows indicating a counter-clockwise direction. The next four are dashed for tracing. The last five are solid.
- Row 2: A sequence of four circles, the first is solid and the others are dashed.
- Row 3: A sequence of two solid circles followed by four dots.
- Row 4: A sequence of one solid circle, one dashed circle, and a series of dots.
- Row 5: Three large versions of the 'Owih tamoleken ika'ko' motif. The first is solid, the second is dashed, and the third is solid.
